

Studio for new music

Founded by Diego H. Feinstein and continued by Frank Gerhardt, the concerts of the “studios of new music” form since many years the framework for the events of Kassel’s academy of music, that deal with contemporary art.

It is the goal of this series of events to show the stylistic diversity of modern music as well as to permit new accesses to the various aspects of content. So, during the events of the studios, you will find different ways of presentation (Concerts, performances, conversations, workshops).

The wide spectrum of the presented works ranges from the premier of the works of the composition-students of the academy, back to compositions from the time of the foundation of modern music.

- Frank Gerhardt